More About Emmett Mull and Martha Cuppy:

Generation No. 4

8. James William (Little Jim) Weir, born 06 May 1823 in Washington county, Franklin twsp, Indiana; died 08 Sep 1889 in New Philidelpha, Washington county Indiana. He was the son of 16. John W II Weir and 17. Mary (Polly) Gardner. He married 9. Hannah Amelia DeWitt 04 Oct 1872 in South Carolina moved to Washington county Indiana.

9. Hannah Amelia DeWitt, born 11 Oct 1841 in Indiana; died 19 Nov 1912 in Washington county Indiana. She was the daughter of 18. John Dewitt and 19. Hannah Parish Poor.

Notes for James William (Little Jim) Weir:

. James [Little Jim] Weir (John W.) was born in Indiana 6 May 1823. Jim was probably born in Washington County. Crawford Robison [Weir descendant] reportedly stated that Jim was the son of David Weir [1781-1849]. James died 8 Sep 1889 in New Phila., Washington Co., IN, at 66 years of age. Burial in Beech Grove Cemetery. Jim, who died of chronic lung disease, lived his entire life on his farm one and one-half miles east of New Philadelphia. Jim was enumerated on the Indiana census from 1850 through 1880 in Franklin Twp., Washington County.

He married twice. He married Jane Ann Robison in Washington Co., IN, abt 1847. Jane was born in Indiana 25 Mar 1829. Jane was the daughter of William Robison and Mary Thompson. Jane died 13 Dec 1862 in Washington Co., IN, at 33 years of age. Burial in Beech Grove Cemetery.

Three of Jane's siblings married into the Weir family: John Robison, married Nancy Elizabeth Weir, daughter of George William Weir and Margaret Gardner. Mary Jane Robison married John Weir and Margaret Robison married Joseph Young Weir, sons of David Thomas Weir and Margaret Gardner.

He married Hannah Amelia DeWitt in Washington Co., IN, 4 Oct 1872. Hannah's first husband, James Huston Tucker, died during the Civil War. [Their son, Virgil Emmet Tucker, lived in Oldtown, Maine at the time of Hannah's death.] Hannah was born in Indiana 11 Oct 1841. Hannah was the daughter of John DeWitt and Hannah Poor. Hannah died 19 Nov 1912 in Washington Co., IN, at 71 years of age. Burial in Beech Grove Cemetery. Hannah was a member of the Presbyterian Church for 56 years.

James [Little Jim] Weir and Jane Ann Robison had the following children:

Ruth Anna Weir was born 1 Feb 1849 and died 3 Dec 1933.

Mary Emma Weir was born in Washington Co., IN abt. 1852. One researcher listed 1848 as the year of birth, however Mary Emma was not enumerated in her parents household on the 1850 census. Mary died 5 Jul 1919 in Salem, Washington Co., IN, at 67 years of age.,

Cyrus D. Weir. Not listed in his father's household on the 1870 census. was born in Washington Co., IN 1 Aug 1855. Cyrus died all. Mar 1921. Resided: Mar 1921, in Rialto, CA. Census: 1920 in San Bernadino Co., CA [E.D. 183, Sh. 6]. He married Rosa B. Hartley in Washington Co., IN, 15 Oct 1882.

Eliza Jane Weir was born 30 Jul 1858 and died I 1 Mar 1921.

William Weir was born in Washington Co., IN abt 1861

. Erastus Weir was born 1873 and died 14 Apr 1947.

Cora Alice Weir was born 14 Mar 1875 and died 17 Nov 1956.

Edward Weir was born May 1877 and died aft_ Nov 1956.

Lydia Amelia Weir was born in Washington Co., IN Aug 1879. Her date of birth, taken from the census, may be incorrect.

- Lydia was not enumerated in her parents' household on the 1880 Indiana soundex. Lydia died 1955 in Salem, Washington Co., IN, at 75 years of age. Burial in Crown Hill Cemetery. She married Alfred [Alpha] Sullivan. Alfred was the son of William Sullivan and Alice Ridetia.

Dennis Weir was born 1 Jan 1883 and died 28 Jul 1970.

JAMES WEIR - [September 9,1889, New Philadelphia Items] Died Sunday the 8th inst., James Weir, of chronic lung disease, and was buried on the 9th at Beech Grove Cemetery. Deceased was about sixty years old, had lived all his life on his farm one and one-half miles east of town. He was a peaceable, good citizen, had been twice married and leaves a wife and several children. One by one the old citizens are passing away.

Generation No. 5

16. John W II Weir, born 1800 in South Carolina; died 13 Mar 1850 in Washington county Indiana buried at Beach Grove cemetery. He was the son of 32. James II Weir. He married 17. Mary (Polly) Gardner Abt. 1818.

17. Mary (Polly) Gardner, born 06 Apr 1799 in South Carolina; died in Washington county Indiana - Franklin township. She was the daughter of 34. James Thomas Gardner and 35. Margaret Weir.

Notes for John W II Weir:

John W. Weir was born in Ireland ? 1800. John may have been born in South Carolina. His parentage is unknown. John "fits" to have been one of the two males enumerated in 1810 with James Weir in Fairfield Co., South Caroline. He also "fits" to have been enumerated in 1810 with either David Weir or John Weir [South Caroline census]. John died 13 Mar 1850 in Washington Co., IN, at 49 years of age. Burial in Beech Grove Cemetery.

He married Mary [Polly] Gardner abt. 1819. Compiler can not identify John Weir on the 1820 South Carolina census. John Weir [listed Wear] does not appear until 1830 on the Indiana census in Washington County [p. 351]. By 1840 [p. 267], three additional males in his family do not "fit" with the family as listed below.

Mary was born in South Carolina abt. 1793. Mary was the daughter of James Thomas Gardner and Margaret Mary died aft. 1849 in Indiana. Polly's date of death is not known. Her four youngest children are enumerated in her household on the 1850 Indiana census of Franklin Twp., Washington County [p. 362, #222].

On 4 Oct 1831, John purchased, from John and Anna Pearson, the Southwest Quarter of Section 1I, Township 2N, Range 5E, in Washington Co., IN [Deed Bk. F:439]. John sold the West Half of the Southwest Quarter on Mar 1833 to Archibald Weir [Bk. G:366]. Compiler found no record of the disposition of the East Half of the Southwest Quarter. Archibald Weir, by 1850, lived in Monroe Twp., as did Andrew Weir. The progenitor of Archibald Weir and Andrew Weir is not known. Were they sons of James Weir?

Nearly twenty years later, on 3 Feb 1852, two years after John's death, James Robinson, Frances Hobbs, and James Weir, conveyed this tract of land [West Half] to David Weir [Bk. X:120]. David was probably the David listed below as John's son.

John W. Weir and Mary [Polly] Gardner had the following children:

2 i.Margaret? Weir was born abt. 1819. Margaret died aft. 1859 in Washington Co., IN. Margaret was enumerated on the 1860 Indiana census in Franklin Twp., Washington County [p. 110, #807]. She married James Robinson in Washington Co., IN, Mar 1837.

3 ii.Jane Weir was born 29 Jan 1821 and died 9 Jan 1901.

4 iii.James [Little Jim] Weir was born 6 May 1823 and died 8 Sep 1889.

5 iv.David Weir was born abt 1825 and died Feb 1861.

6 v. Mary Weir was born in Washington Co., IN abt. 1829. Birth (2): abt 1835. Mary's age on the 1860 and 1870 census is "off six years from the age given on the 1850 census when she was enumerated in Franklin Twp., Washington County [p. 362, #222]. She married James Johnson in Washington Co., IN, 28 Oct 1852. Compiler's note: At one time I wondered if Mary was the Mary who was the wife of James A. Mayfield of Franklin Twp. [1860, #865; 1870, p. 23, #175].

7 vi. George C. [Kern] Weir was born abt. 1831 and died aft. Dec 1891.

8 vii. Elizabeth Weir was born in Washington Co., IN abt. 1835.

Meaning John Weir, Reisided in Washington County Indiana, age 50 married, born in South Carolina, cause of death unknown, 1st Mortality schedule 1850

The graves of John & Mary (Gardner) Weir are both in Beech Grove Cem., in Franklin Township, Washington County, Indiana. - Mary's stone has disintegrated and has dissappeared completely Older members of the family in 1979 insisted that they were buried side by side. .

Per Researcher Jeff Harmon "John W. Weir was born in 1785 in Ireland. He died on 13 Mar 1850 in Indiana. He was buried in Beech Grove Cem, Washington Co., Indiana. Headstone indicates he was in the 50th year of his age." The source given is Weir family data on microfilm, Washington County Drawer, Indiana St. Library."

This is the same date for Johns' birth as a four page article submitted to the Washington Co., Indiana Historical Society by Virginia Weir Nelson - (Mrs. Farrell E. Nelson) of Route 2 Salem , Indiana, in January of 1969, and copied by Miss Lulie Davis, of the Historical Society on Feb 4, 1969.

INTRODUCTION

Abt 1780 , , Ireland

The first serious family researchers that I have found for this Weir family were William Clarence, Lebert Howard, and James Robert

Weir. Three sons of Benjamin Franklin and Barbara (Hartley) Weir, Grandsons of Robert Gardner and Mary Boyce Weir. Greatgrandsons of David and Jane (Gardner) Weir and Great-great-grandsons of James Weirhis still unnamed wife and infant son who emigrated to the United States before 1788

These three Weir boys were well educated and quite famous for their work In Education, Recreation and Botany.

Thinking that their Weir family had been in America for some time these three brothers were looking for a great-great-grandfather that had served in the American Revolutionary War. They wanted very much to join the Sons of the American Revolution. They did research themselves and other unknown genealogists. They were working with Miss Lubie Davis and Mrs. Harvey Morris of the Washington County Historical Society, in Salem, Washington Co., Indiana as well as a Mr. John M. Burkett who had formerly lived in Washington Co., Indiana but was living in Washington D. C. in 1939.

I found it intresting that this was before the event of rolls of filmed census records in almost every library. If James Robert wanted Mr.

Burkett to read a census he first sent him a letter requesting him to do the search. Mr. Burkett took the letter to the National archives with him - was allowed to enter but if he did not complete his task that day he had to have another request letter from James Robert before he could finish the search. - You will find some copies of Mr. Burkett's work in records of the 1830-40-and 50 census records.

The brothers knew of the Presbyterian immigrants that had been subjects of King George the Second of England and the persecutions that they had endured. They knew of the arrival of Presbyterians in the Fishing Creek, Chester Co., South Carolina area and had become pretty well convinced that they were descendants of David Weir the Covenanter through his son William and his son, James Weir who had married Ann Cowman Rumsey. In the family file under "W" at the Historical Society in Salem Indiana we find a letter written by James Robert Weir to Mrs. Harvey Morris at the Historical Society in Washington Co., Indiana. Read this letter in its entirety and understand how confused James Robert was at this point.

Feb 28, 1943 Scottsburg, Indiana

Mrs. Harvey Morris

Salem, Indiana

Dear Mrs, Morris

Shortly after writing the other day I went across the county toward the knobs to a little school house to get my ration book. There I met for the first time Erastus Weir of 70 years I have often heard my father speak of him. I wondered where he came into the line. He told me that his Grandfather was John Weir (John is the correct name not James) one of the 3 Weir brothers who married the Gardner sisters: His father was James Weir known as "Little Jim" to distinguish from James Gardner Weir "Big Jim" son of George Weir of the 3 brothers. I have often heard my father speak of "Big Jim" and "Little Jim" Weir.

Erastus Weir surprised me by informing me that my great, great grandfather (his Great grandfather) was James Weir and that he is buried in a small cemetery half way between New Philadelphia and Boston. This cemetery is on the old McKnight place now called the Harvey Elliot place. He insists that this is true because his father was well aware of the circumstances presumably through his father John Weir.

He said that this James Weir was rather old when he arrived in the region - told of stories that had come down of how the boys would play tricks on the old gentleman and that he would drop into a chair greatly fatigued after work. -that he built a house on his son John's place Beech Grove (That would be toward Salem) - that no stone marks his grave and that now it is impossible to determine the exact spot. This last is very unfortunate, unless there is a church record somewhere of some mention is made of the matter in the records of other pioneer families, land or census records, it is difficult. I see no reason why I should not accept what Erastus ("Ras") Weir has said, but however in matters of this kind we must have authentic data and authentic facts but I don't see how the problem can be solved.

Erastus to my surprise was greatly interested in his family history and had been trying to work it out through correspondence with Crawford Robinson and other people. He knew of you and your work with the Historical Society and of this record made by L. L. Weir son of Joseph Young Weir of my line. No one seems to be able to turn up this L. L. Weir or his son rather, but I shall have another try. Erastus thought he was in Cincinnati. I wrote to Milwaukee and my letter was not returned. I shall certainly look up this little cemetery. Perhaps there is a broken stone, just as I found at Beech Grove for David Weir my great grandfather. Fitted it together and got the record and will erect a new one. Erastus Weir from his father said that James Weir and his three sons stopped in South Carolina and "made two crops" then on to Washington Co., This provides a number of surmises apparently they all came together from county Antrim Ireland (Closest County to Scotland) it might appear that this James Weir is the original emigrant of my line in America. But when did they arrive in South Carolina and where? And when in Indiana, and where did they stop in South Carolina to "Make two crops?" To do that they evidently acquired land or leased it. I thought I was in the original region along Fishing Creek in Chester Co., S. C. Camdon Dist. When I found the grave of David Weir in Paul's graveyard. Apparently the research is not changed. Many Weirs of this Scotch-Irish Presbyterian Covenanters came to this region after their oppression in Ireland. Did the 3 Gardner sisters come from Ireland as wives of the 3 brothers or were they married in America either in South Carolina or Indiana. Did this father and his 3 sons come together or separately all kinds of conjectures. Another interesting point is that the Gardner's were evidently English. I do not find the name in my list of Scottish surnames that are entitled to wear a tartan, but the list cannot be complete. The Weirs are Scots. This implies perhaps that the two families might have met for the first time in America for what would the Gardner's. if English, be doing in North Scotland, or the extreme north of Ireland. I may say in passing that I am legally entitled to wear four Scotch Tartans my own and tartans of the clans MacNaughton, MacFarlane and Buchanan of which my people were septs. What Erastus Weir tells me agrees with your statement in your letter of Nov. 30 1938 that "Tradition gives name of the father of the 3 boys as James Weir." If he is authentic then my line has not been 'America as long as I had supposed. In order to grasp the line up as far as it now stands I have written out a chart a copy of which I enclose with comments, your findings. I fear that this letter has raised the ghosts of some of your earlier investigations for I do not have with me here all your several letters.

Sincerely

James R Weir

James Robert died 1 June 1943, three months after writing the above letter.

Also found at the Historical society in Salem was a four page manuscript which will be copied again in it's entirety. At the bottom of page four, this note appears. "The material herein contained was made available through the courtesy of Vivian Talbot of Orlando, Florida, daughter of William C. Weir, who was the son of Robert Gardner Weir." (This statement is in error and helps give an idea of how little was known about the Weir family as late as 1969. William Clarence Weir was a grandson of Robert Gardner Weir. not a son.

He was one of the three sons of Benjamin Franklin Weir and Barbara Hartley Weir.) MH - Back to beginning of text text.

WEIR FAMILY HISTORY

Thought to be written by James Robert Weir

Is taken from the records compiled by James R. (Robert) Weir and professional genealogists. However, part of the information is taken from an article written by Miller Weir entitled "The Revolutionary Services of David Weir, his son William Weir, John Miller, and Moses Mc Cowan of Fishing Creek South Carolina. which appeared in DAR Magazine, February 1924, Volume 59. NO.2 - extracts.

Agow Parish, Lanarkshire, was the Scottish ancestral home of the Weir family. James Weir was proclaimed by King Charles II

October 8, 1581 ,in the following language; Charles, by the grace of God, King of Great Britain, France and Ireland. Defender of the Faith, to our lovits greetings. For as much as the persons underwritten, are by decree of the lords Commissioners of the judiciary, forfeited in their lives, lands of Lesmahag, Lanarkshire (and others) "We hereby give and grant full power, authority and commission to pursue, take, apprehend, imprison, the foresaid rebels and traitors wherever they can be found, and in case of resistance to pursue them to death by force of arms or drive them forth to pursue them to death by force of arms or drive them forth, etc." Given under our signet at Holyrood, the eighth day of October 1681, and of one our reign the 33rd year. Signed --- the King In 1684 a milder proclamation was issued against the Weirs of Lesmahag, Lanarkshire-James Weir, the younger, Thomas Weir, brother of James the younger, Gavin Weir Adam Weir and others. They are charged with being active Covenanters. Soldiers of the King were stationed in Blackwood Manor in 1684, the home of the Weir family. The Weirs fled from the persecutions of Claverhouse to the north of Ireland.

Their property having been confiscated and they hunted out of Scotland. They took refuge in Ireland. County Antrim was known as the shelter of the hunted Covenanters

Historian Hanna says "Many of the Antrim, Ireland leases having fallen due in 1772, the farms, which these sturdy Scots had in five generations reclaimed from the wilderness Antrim, let by auction to the highest bidder. 1000,000 pounds, which was refused. The most substantial of the expelled, gathered their effects and sailed to join their countrymen in the New World, where the Scotch-Irish became known as the most bitter secessionists from England."

Smith's History of Pickens county, Alabama, speaks of "The Weirs of South Carolina, who were born in the north of Ireland, their ancestry was Protestant Irish, which is as valuable inheritance as an American need wish; they were Scotch Irish Presbyterians of the highest standing. Their standing is too well known to need eulogy."

These Scotch-Irish Presbyterian Covenanters settled at Fishing Creek, South Carolina in 1772, Headed by Rev. William Martin, they came from Ballymoney, County Antrim, and had intended to land at Cape Cod, but were driven out of their course by a severe storm

2 Jun 2007

James WEIR .-45

and landed on the coast of South Carolina. In this company headed by Rev. William Martin, were the Weirs, the Millers, the Boydes, the McCowns, the Piggins and others."

George Howe, in his history of the Presbyterian Church in South Carolina, says, "William Martin and his Covenanters had ill getting their land, they expected to settle down all close together, but they had to scatter and select land a considerable distance from each other, they were entitled to bounty, one hundred acres for each head of family and fifty to each member, those who had means bought from other settlers. The place selected for a church was near the house now occupied by Mrs. James Barger Ferguson. It was a log building, and it was burned by the British in 1780. The second church was the Beaver Dam Church on land owned by Stephen Ferguson.

Fishing Creek is a settlement about 15 miles long and 4 miles wide, lying along Fishing Creek, in Chester County, South Carolina, all historic Revolutionary events: Rock Creek, Catawba River, and Fishing Creek are there. The country is rolling, beautiful to the eye, with a general atmosphere of peace and Plenty on every side are comfortable homes and well-cultivated farms, the land appears to be good cotton land, which is the chief farming industry. The old church and graveyards are many. Revolutionary events crowd thick along Fishing Creek, here is, "Cornwallis Road," there is where Tarleton defeated the Americans, here is a tree on which a Tory was hung.

History says that David Weir had a grandson, David, who was the son of William Weir, This grandson was wounded at Eutaw Springs and died soon afterwards from the wounds. (Note: this David may have been a son not a grandson', from the date of the William Weir family) I

Stub entries to indents, issued in payment of claims against south Carolina, growing out of the Revolution for Militia duty performed, says "Paid to David Weir (Indexed Wier) 10 pounds sterling, for 100 days militia duty, as per account audited - issued November w, 1784. No 470, Book L. by A. S. Salley, Mr., Secretary of the Historical Commission of south Carolina, Columbia South Carolina.

William Weir, the son of David Weir, the Covenanter, was born in County Antrim, Ireland, came to Fishing Creek in 1772. with the

David Weir family. Married before 1777 to Susannah Miller, who was a sister of revolutionary soldier, John Miller, William Weir and wife Susannah Miller are buried at Paradise, Kentucky. On her gravestone is inscribed, " Susannah. The best of Mothers."

William Weir, at one time returned home from the Revolutionary War to make shoes for his family and his son David took his place. This

David, son of William and grandson of the Revolutionary soldier, David was severely wounded in the Battle: of Eutaw Springs and was taken prisoner to Charlestown. His mother, Susannah Miller Weir, went to Charlestown and procured his release, she took him home in a cart 70 miles; but he died from the effects of the wounds several months afterwards. William Weir (Indexed Ware) served in the Revolutionary army according to DAR papers. The name WEIR was pronounced Ware in South Carolina and Kentucky and also spelled Wear and Wier. I

Since the advent of the computer we find a great increase in genealogical interest. Janet Scott of George and Margaret (Gardner)

Weir line was working on the three Gardner Sisters in the 1980 era. She sent out multi-paged queries and information sheets to known family members. Unfortunately some have considered those pages as finished work. At any rate her work is a great improvement over the material that had been collected before and may be found through the Family History Centers of the LDS church.

However we do hold some differences of opinion. - which has really inspired me to intensify my research and has taught me a lot.

I am very impressed with the work she has done. The differences in our opinions are: 1. The middle name of George Weir born 1788. I have found nothing using the initial W. related to this George. I have 16 men named George Weir in my data base six do not have a middle name or initial. Of course there is the disagreement about the usage of James and Ann Rumsey or Ramsey as parents and that will be dealt with later in this paper..

In the Scott work she references other family researchers, Dot Tate of Birmingham, Alabama who did a lot of on the descendants of James Gardner Weir and Mary Ann Hougland. Paul Long, family researcher and his cousin Olive Grace (Weir) Johnson, Laura Weir

Kehoe of Sharon, Oklahoma. I

I have found Beverly Ruger in Michigan, who is also of the George & Margaret (Gardner) Weir line. Descendant William P.

Morrison, from the Columbus Marshall and Martha (Crum) Weir found in the David C. & Sarah Ardrey branch of David & Jane (Gardner)

Weir. Also Rita and Paula Giblet, and Benny Joe Hill of the same line. Jeff Harmon in Indiana who contributed much with his records of the John & Mary (Gardner) Weir's oldest daughter Jane who married Francis M. Hobbs. Jeff has done a remarkable work with the Obituaries and Photographs of the family including the Obituaries collected by James Hobbs.

JAMES WEIR SR 1754 - 1837

Generation One

The 1820 census of Washington Co., Indiana shows John Wear, thought to be the youngest son of James Wear, as a free white male

16 - 25, 1 free white male 26 - 44, with 1 free white female under 10, 1 free white female 16 - 25, with two persons engaged in agriculture. This relates to the family as John Wear age 20, his father James Weir Sr.. (Not aged between 24 - 44 but over 66 this was not necessarily a mistake by the census taker. A column for an older male was not provided in that census.) One female under 10 and

Mary "Polly"(Gardner) Weir aged 21. This census DOES show an older male living on this property of John Weir. Of course there is no way that anyone researching this would know that the 21 year old woman was not the wife of the older male, named John Weir. Or that the older man was actually the father of the young man. But the traditional story that James Weir Sr. lived on his son John William Weirs farm is substantiated. Now, another problem arises with the children of John and Mary - The 1820 census shows as above that there was a female child under 10 years of age. We have considered Jane the oldest child but according to the records we have now

The 1820 census of Washington Co., Indiana shows John Wear as a free white male 16-25, 1 free white male 26-44, with 1 free white female under 10, 1 free white female 16 - 25, and 2 persons engaged in agriculture. This relates to the family as: John Wear age

20, his father James Weir (not aged between 26-44 but 66) One female child under 10, and Mary (Gardner) Weir aged 21. this census does show an older male living on this property at that time. Our family legends hold that James Weir Sr. built himself a small cabin on the property of John Weir his youngest son.

"Personal knowledge of great-grandson Erastus Weir. No gravestone."

INTRODUCTION

The first serious family researchers that I have found for this Weir family were William Clarence, Lebert Howard, and James Robert Weir. Three sons of Benjamin Franklin and Barbara (Hartley) Weir, Grandsons of Robert Gardner and Mary Boyce Weir. Greatgrandsons of David and Jane (Gardner) Weir and Great-great-grandsons of James Weirhis still unnamed wife and infant son who emigrated to the United States before 1788

These three Weir boys were well educated and quite famous for their work In Education, Recreation and Botany. Thinking that their Weir family had been in America for some time these three brothers were looking for a great-great-grandfather that had served in the American Revolutionary War. They wanted very much to join the Sons of the American Revolution. They did research themselves and other unknown genealogists. They were working with Miss Lubie Davis and Mrs. Harvey Morris of the Washington County Historical Society, in Salem, Washington Co., Indiana as well as a Mr. John M. Burkett who had formerly lived in Washington Co., Indiana but was living in Washington D. C. in 1939.

I found it interesting that this was before the event of rolls of filmed census records in almost every library. If James Robert wanted Mr. Burkett to read a census he first sent him a letter requesting him to do the search. Mr. Burkett took the letter to the National archives with him - was allowed to enter but if he did not complete his task that day he had to have another request letter from James Robert before he could finish the search. - You will find some copies of Mr. Burkett's work in records of the 1830-40-and 50 census records. The brothers knew of the Presbyterian immigrants that had been subjects of King George the Second of England and the persecutions that they had endured. They knew of the arrival of Presbyterians in the Fishing Creek, Chester Co., South Carolina area and had become pretty well convinced that they were descendants of David Weir the Covenanter through his son William and his son, James Weir who had married Ann Cowman Rumsey. In the family file under "W" at the Historical Society in Salem Indiana we find a letter written by James Robert Weir to Mrs. Harvey Morris at the Historical Society in Washington Co., Indiana. Read this letter in its entirety and understand how confused James Robert was at this point.

Feb 28, 1943 Scottsburg, Indiana

Mrs. Harvey Morris

Salem, Indiana

Dear Mrs. Morris

Shortly after writing the other day I went across the county toward the knobs to a little school house to get my ration book. There I met for the first time Erastus Weir of 70 years I have often heard my father speak of him. I wondered where he came into the line. He told me that his Grandfather was John Weir (John is the correct name not James) one of the 3 Weir brothers who married the Gardner sisters: His father was James Weir known as "Little Jim" to distinguish from James Gardner Weir "Big Jim" son of George Weir of the 3 brothers. I have often heard my father speak of "Big Jim" and "Little Jim" Weir.

Erastus Weir surprised me by informing me that my great, great grandfather (his Great grandfather) was James Weir and that he is buried in a small cemetery half way between New Philadelphia and Boston. This cemetery is on the old McKnight place now called the Harvey Elliot place. He insists that this is true because his father was well aware of the circumstances presumably through his father John Weir.

He said that this James Weir was rather old when he arrived in the region - told of stories that had come down of how the boys would play tricks on the old gentleman and that he would drop into a chair greatly fatigued after work. -that he built a house on his son John's place

Beech Grove (That would be toward Salem) - that no stone marks his grave and that now it is impossible to determine the exact spot. This last is very unfortunate, unless there is a church record somewhere of some mention is made of the matter in the records of other pioneer families, land or census records, it is difficult. I see no reason why I should not accept what Erastus ("Ras") Weir has said, but however in matters of this kind we must have authentic data and authentic facts but I don't see how the problem can be solved.

Erastus to my surprise was greatly interested in his family history and had been trying to work it out through correspondence with Crawford Robinson and other people. He knew of you and your work with the Historical Society and of this record made by L. L. Weir son of Joseph Young Weir of my line. No one seems to be able to turn up this L. L. Weir or his son rather, but I shall have another try. Erastus thought he was in Cincinnati. I wrote to Milwaukee and my letter was not returned. I shall certainly look up this little cemetery. Perhaps there is a broken stone, just as I found at Beech Grove for David Weir my great grandfather. Fitted it together and got the record and will erect a new one.

Erastus Weir from his father said that James Weir and his three sons stopped in South Carolina and "made two crops" then on to Washington Co., This provides a number of surmises apparently they all came together from county Antrim Ireland (Closest County to Scotland) it might appear that this James Weir is the original emigrant of my line in America. But when did they arrive in South Carolina and where? And when in Indiana, and where did they stop in South Carolina to "Make two crops?" To do that they evidently acquired land or leased it. I thought I was in the original region along Fishing Creek in Chester Co., S. C. Camden Dist. When I found the grave of David Weir in Paul's graveyard. Apparently the research is not changed. Many Weirs of this Scotch-Irish Presbyterian Covenanters came to this region after their oppression in Ireland.

Did the 3 Gardner sisters come from Ireland as wives of the 3 brothers or were they married in America either in South Carolina or Indiana. Did this father and his 3 sons come together or separately all kinds of conjectures Another interesting point is that the Gardner's were evidently English. I do not find the name in my list of Scottish surnames that are entitled to wear a tartan, but the list cannot be complete. The Weirs are Scots. This implies perhaps that the two families might have met for the first time in America for what would the Gardner's, if English, be doing in North Scotland, or the extreme north of Ireland. I may say in passing that I am legally entitled to wear four Scotch Tartans my own and tartans of the clans MacNaughton, MacFarlane and Buchanan of which my people were septs.

What Erastus Weir tells me agrees with your statement in your letter of Nov. 30 1938 that "Tradition gives name of the father of the 3 boys as James Weir." If he is authentic then my line has not been America as long as I had supposed.

In order to grasp the line up as far as it now stands I have written out a chart a copy of which I enclose with comments, your findings. I fear that this letter has raised the ghosts of some of your earlier investigations for I do not have with me here all your several letters. Sincerely

James Robert died 1 June 1943, three months after writing the above letter.

Also found at the Historical society in Salem was a four page manuscript which will be copied again in it's entirety. At the bottom of page four, this note appears. "The material herein contained was made available through the courtesy of Vivian Talbot of Orlando, Florida, daughter of William C. Weir, who was the son of Robert Gardner Weir." (This statement is in error and helps give an idea of how little was known about the Weir family as late as 1969. William Clarence Weir was a grandson of Robert Gardner Weir. not a son. He was one of the three sons of Benjamin Franklin Weir and Barbara Hartley Weir.) MH - Back to beginning of text text.

WEIR FAMILY HISTORY

Thought to be written by James Robert Weir

Is taken from the records compiled by James R. (Robert) Weir and professional genealogists. However, part of the information is taken from an article written by Miller Weir entitled "The Revolutionary Services of David Weir, his son William Weir, John Miller, and Moses Mc Cowan of Fishing Creek South Carolina. which appeared in DAR Magazine, February 1924, Volume 59. No. 2 - extracts.

Agow Parish, Lanarkshire, was the Scottish ancestral home of the Weir family. James Weir was proclaimed by King Charles II October 8, 1581, in the following language; Charles, by the grace of God, King of Great Britain, France and Ireland. Defender of the Faith, to our lovits greetings. For as much as the persons underwritten, are by decree of the lords Commissioners of the judiciary, forfeited in their lives, lands of Lesmahag, Lanarkshire (and others) "We hereby give and grant full power, authority and commission to pursue, take, apprehend, imprison, the foresaid rebels and traitors wherever they can be found, and in case of resistance to pursue them to death by force of arms or drive them forth to pursue them to death by force of arms or drive them forth, etc." Given under our signet at Holyrood, the eighth day of October 1681, and of one our reign the 33rd year. Signed --- the King In 1684 a milder proclamation was issued against the Weirs of Lesmahag, Lanarkshire-James Weir, the younger, Thomas Weir, brother of James the younger, Gavin Weir Adam Weir and others. They are charged with being active Covenanters. Soldiers of the King were stationed in Blackwood Manor in 1684, the home of the Weir family. The Weirs fled from the persecutions of Claverhouse to the north of Ireland. Their property having been confiscated and they hunted out of Scotland. They took refuge in Ireland. County Antrim was known as the shelter of the hunted Covenanters

Historian Hanna says "Many of the Antrim, Ireland leases having fallen due in 1772, the farms, which these sturdy Scots had in five generations reclaimed from the wilderness Antrim, let by auction to the highest bidder. 1000,000 pounds, which was refused. The most substantial of the expelled, gathered their effects and sailed to join their countrymen in the New World, where the Scotch-Irish became known as the most bitter secessionists from England."

Smith's History of Pickens county, Alabama, speaks of "The Weirs of South Carolina, who were born in the north of Ireland, their ancestry was Protestant Irish, which is as valuable inheritance as an American need wish; they were Scotch Irish Presbyterians of the highest standing. Their standing is too well known to need eulogy."

These Scotch-Irish Presbyterian Covenanters settled at Fishing Creek, South Carolina in 1772, Headed by Rev. William Martin, they came from Ballymoney, County Antrim, and had intended to land at Cape Cod, but were driven out of their course by a severe storm

and landed on the coast of South Carolina. In this company headed by Rev. William Martin, were the Weirs, the Millers, the Boydes, the McCowns, the Piggins and others."

George Howe, in his history of the Presbyterian Church in South Carolina, says, "William Martin and his Covenanters had ill getting their land, they expected to settle down all close together, but they had to scatter and select land a considerable distance from each other, they were entitled to bounty, one hundred acres for each head of family and fifty to each member, those who had means bought from other settlers. The place selected for a church was near the house now occupied by Mrs. James Barger Ferguson. It was a log building, and it was burned by the British in 1780. The second church was the Beaver Dam Church on land owned by Stephen Ferguson.

Fishing Creek is a settlement about 15 miles long and 4 miles wide, lying along Fishing Creek, in Chester County, South Carolina, all historic Revolutionary events: Rock Creek, Catawba River, and Fishing Creek are there. The country is rolling, beautiful to the eye, with a general atmosphere of peace and Plenty on every side are comfortable homes and well-cultivated farms, the land appears to be good cotton land, which is the chief farming industry. The old church and graveyards are many. Revolutionary events crowd thick along Fishing Creek, here is, "Cornwallis Road," there is where Tarleton defeated the Americans, here is a tree on which a Tory was hung. History says that David Weir had a grandson, David, who was the son of William Weir, This grandson was wounded at Eutaw Springs and died soon afterwards from the wounds. (Note: this David may have been a son not a grandson, from the date of the William Weir family)

Stub entries to indents, issued in payment of claims against south Carolina, growing out of the Revolution for Militia duty performed, says "Paid to David Weir (Indexed Wier) 10 pounds sterling, for 100 days militia duty, as per account audited - issued November w, 1784. No 470, Book L. by A. S. Salley, Mr., Secretary of the Historical Commission of south Carolina, Columbia South Carolina.

William Weir, the son of David Weir, the Covenanter, was born in County Antrim, Ireland, came to Fishing Creek in 1772. with the David Weir family. Married before 1777 to Susannah Miller, who was a sister of revolutionary soldier, John Miller, William Weir and wife Susannah Miller are buried at Paradise, Kentucky. On her gravestone is inscribed, " Susannah. The best of Mothers."

William Weir, at one time returned home from the Revolutionary War to make shoes for his family and his son David took his place. This David, son of William and grandson of the Revolutionary soldier, David was severely wounded in the Battle of Eutaw Springs and was taken prisoner to Charlestown. His mother, Susannah Miller Weir, went to Charlestown and procured his release, she took him home in a cart 70 miles; but he died from the effects of the wounds several months afterwards. William Weir (Indexed Ware) served in the Revolutionary army according to DAR papers. The name WEIR was pronounced Ware in South Carolina and Kentucky and also spelled Wear and Wier.

Since the advent of the computer we find a great increase in genealogical interest. Janet Scott of George and Margaret (Gardner) Weir line was working on the three Gardner Sisters in the 1980 era. She sent out multi-paged queries and information sheets to known family members. Unfortunately some have considered those pages as finished work. At any rate her work is a great improvement over the material that had been collected before and may be found through the Family History Centers of the LDS church.

However we do hold some differences of opinion. - which has really inspired me to intensify my research and has taught me a lot. I am very impressed with the work she has done. The differences in our opinions are: 1. The middle name of George Weir born 1788. I have found nothing using the initial W. related to this George. I have 16 men named George Weir in my data base six do not have a middle name or initial. Of course there is the disagreement about the usage of James and Ann Rumsey or Ramsey as parents and that will be dealt with later in this paper..

In the Scott work she references other family researchers, Dot Tate of Birmingham, Alabama who did a lot of on the descendants of James Gardner Weir and Mary Ann Hougland. Paul Long, family researcher and his cousin Olive Grace (Weir) Johnson, Laura Weir Kehoe of Sharon, Oklahoma.

I have found Beverly Ruger in Michigan, who is also of the George & Margaret (Gardner) Weir line. Descendant William P. Morrison, from the Columbus Marshall and Martha (Crum) Weir found in the David C. & Sarah Ardrey branch of David & Jane (Gardner) Weir. Also Rita and Paula Giblet, and Benny Joe Hill of the same line. Jeff Harmon in Indiana who contributed much with his records of the John & Mary (Gardner) Weir's oldest daughter Jane who married Francis M. Hobbs. Jeff has done a remarkable work with the Obituaries and Photographs of the family including the Obituaries collected by James Hobbs.

JAMES WEIR SR 1754 - 1837 Generation One

The 1820 census of Washington Co., Indiana shows John Wear, thought to be the youngest son of James Wear, as a free white male 16 - 25, 1 free white male 26 - 44, with 1 free white female under 10, 1 free white female 16 - 25, with two persons engaged in agriculture. This relates to the family as John Wear age 20, his father James Weir Sr.. (Not aged between 24 - 44 but over 66 this was not necessarily a mistake by the census taker. A column for an older male was not provided in that census.) One female under 10 and Mary "Polly"(Gardner) Weir aged 21. This census DOES show an older male living on this property of John Weir. Of course there is no way that anyone researching this would know that the 21 year old woman was not the wife of the older male, named John Weir. Or that the older man was actually the father of the young man. But the traditional story that James Weir Sr. lived on his son John William Weirs farm is substantiated. Now, another problem arises with the children of John and Mary - The 1820 census shows as above that there was a female child under 10 years of age. We have considered Jane the oldest child but according to the records we have now

In October of 2004 we received copies of the applications for American Citizenship for James Weir Sr. - These papers are difficult to read because they were written on both sides of the paper and in making copies a mirror image of the back side printed through making reading difficult. Punctuation is at times non existent, Capitalization inconsistent and unusual, the vocabulary, spelling, and handwriting different than we use today.

from Vicky Tobias

Will happily swap info on any of the above Washington County, Indiana surnames - Specifically looking for info on James T. and Margaret (nee?) Gardner who immigrated to the US from County Antrim, Ireland in the late 1700s. First to Chester County, SC then to Washington County, IN (appx. 1813 or 1818). J and M Gardner had 5 kids: Margaret, Sarah Jane, George, Polly, and James. All five children were born in SC but all were married in Washington County, IN. All three girls reputedly married Weir brothers, three sons of William and Susannah (Miller) Weir. Sarah Jane Gardner married James T. Weir and Polly Gardner married John Weir. The Weirs also came to Washington County, IN via Chester County, SC, originally from County Antrim, Ireland. Some were Scotch-Irish Presbyterian "Covenanters". The off-spring of these two families frequently inter-married. George Gardner married Nancy McKnight (another Wash. Co. family) and James Gardner married Margaret McCullough of Chester Co., SC. They may have ended up in Scott County, IN.

Would be eternally grateful for any information about these folks. Found most of them in Beech Grove Cemetery (Franklin Township), Washington Co., IN, a few weeks ago.

George Gardner and Nancy McKnight would be my great-great-great-great grandparents. George and Nancy's son, Robert, married Hannah Hartley. Robert and Hannah's son, George, married Cora Laymon. George and Cora's daughter, Clara, is my paternal grandmother, recently deceased and resting eternally in the Remington Indiana Cemetery, where many other Gardners are buried.

As well, am looking for info about these Scotch-Irish Presbyterian Covenanters. Most fled Scotland in the mid-1600s and settled in County Antrim, Ireland and many immigrated to the US and settled in Chester County, SC.

Am happy to share any info I have!

Thank you very much.

Residence: 1880 Resided in Mormontown, Ringgold, Iowa
Note:

Wendell, born in Reading, Massachusetts, December 27, 1799, went West September 1818, is a retired octogenarian, but for a long period served the community in filling many public offices of important trust. Among them he was collector of public revenue in 1839, Coroner from 1840 to 1842; the next two years High Sheriff -- all in Jackson County, Indiana. In 1854, he removed to Ringgold County, Iowa, where he was Postmaster of Redding and was elected School Fund Commissioner in 1855, and served in that office about three years. In 1862 was appointed to fill the place of Judge Keller when he went into the army; and at the next annual election was chose for a full term, the office being for county business and for Probating estates of deceased persons; and while acting as Judge, the Legislature passed a law making the county Judge eligibe to the office of county Recorder, and he was elected to that office and acted some three years; then he retired from public life -- though his fellow citizens continued to urge him to take offices -- and has since resided on his farm near Mormontown, which place of residence is in the westerly part of Ringgold County, Iowa, and within about one mile of the boundary line between Ringgold and Taylor Counties.

At the time his children were born he resided on White River in the westerly part of Jackson County, IN, and about ten miles west of Brownstown, the county seat of Jackson County. After coming to Ringgold County, he owned 410 acres of land which he bought of government, and resided some eight miles west of Mount Ayr, the seat of that county; but it was more land than he could easily manage after his boys left, so he gave portions of it to some of them and sold the rest and bought about 1865, the place near Mormontown, where he resides in 1880.

Settlement of Polk Township

One of the first permanent settlers was Samuel Gray, who located on Section 29. In the summer of 1811 he came to the township, selected a farm and began the erection of a cabin, but on account of Indian troubles returned to his former home. The next year he came with his family and settled on the farm already entered. A squatter by the name of Joseph Elliott had preceded him and lived for a time upon the land. There were several other squatters at that time but their names are now forgotten. George Preston and Thomas Flowne came in 1813. One a sort of hermit, by the name of Giles, lived in a kind of tent or wigwam in the knobs, very near the line between Nash and Clarke Counties. He lived a very secluded life having as little communications as possible with other residents. He would absent himself from his wigwam for several days and then suddenly make his appearance again. Naturally many strange stories were told regarding his former life, the most of them agreeing that he was an ex-pirate; another that he had served with Napoleon Bonaparte. At the close of the war of 1812 the settlement went on very rapidly, and many families came within the next two or three years. Jedediah Carter settled on Section 19; in 1814 Jacob Bierley settled on Section 31 a year later. In 1816 John and Jacob Tash settled on Blue River near where Pekin now lives. A year or two before that Isaac Davis settled on the quarter Section upon which Pekin is located. The following all came previous to 1817: Ramson Dudley settled on the upper part of Blue River ; Richard Morris settled on a quarter section adjoining Isaac Davis; Allen Peeler settled on Section 10 (he brought out a family by the name of Haberson) John Jeffs and Jesse Wilson settled on land bought by the latters father. John A. Hurst an Irishman, settled near Flower's Gap; John Morris settled where John Gill now lives; Frederick Louders settled on Section 18; James Wilson on southwest quarter of Section 7; John Lochenour located on the northwest quarter Section of the township; a man by the name of Newton located on an adjoining quarter; John Skelton settled on northwest quarter of Section 7; Leonard Sides located on Section 12; Elisha Allen on Section 21; Floyd Low, John Russell and John Wilson were also among the early settlers of this period.

Alvan Poore (1803-1862) son of John Poore and Hannah Chute Poore was my great-great-grandfather. John and Hannah moved from Massachusetts in 1816, traveled down the Ohio River on a flat boat and eventually moved into their cabin with their nine living children on 2 October, 1819, most likely near New Philadelphia, Washington County, Indiana. John died on 9 December 1819, but Hannah chose to stay and tame the wilderness. She raised all the children well including a tenth child Amerlia born 21 August 1820. Some children in adulthood moved to Ringgold County, Iowa, including Alvan's son, Alvan Mansfield Poore (1842-1905) my great-grandfather. My grandfather (son of Alvan M.) Franklin Clifford Poore was born in Mt. Ayr, Iowa. Alvan Mansfield and Vernelia Noble Crouch Poore eventually moved their family to Pueblo, Colorado around 1891. Around 1900 they all moved to Newcastle, California and later to Redlands, California. My grandfather Franklin Clifford Poore moved to Oregon (my mother was born in Medford) and then to Selah, Washington and then to Kennewick, Washington. The family worked at farming, mostly in the fruit industry (in CA, OR and WA), had fruit orchards on their farms, etc. The story of John and Hannah is part of an historical fiction book. However, it is almost all fiction about them except for a few places and dates. One true thing included was about John dying and leaving Hannah to raise the family. I have an old copy of a Poore Genealogy which tells the truth about all of the above. This is all in my rough draft of the Poore side of my mother's family which I hope to continue writing in a couple years after we move. I need two or three of me to do all that I have planned, I think. Thankd for the charts you sent. I sure hope I can find things on the internet as easily as you someday!

Hope all is well.

Love,

Cousin Squirrel Shari

83. Priscilla Hitchcock, born 09 May 1799 in Guilford, North Carolina, USA; died 23 May 1819 in Washington, Indiana, USA.

Notes for Joshua M. Crow:

Note: There's some discussion on Martha Skeen as being a wife of Joshua. Some sources show her, others do not. It seems fairly obvious that Joshua and Martha Skeen were married and had the children shown. However, it would appear unlikely that he married the other two women he reportedly married, as Martha did not die until 4-28-1868, at age 77. Divorce was somewhat uncommon during the time period but is not beyond the realm of possibility, however, that would mean that all his children were not by Martha and it is believed they were. I feel the conclusion is that apparently there was another Joshua Crow in the area but I don't find evidence of another Joshua, from Orange County, North Carolina who ended up in Indiana, except the son of this Joshua. According to some researchers, Joshua also married 2nd - Priscilla Hitchcock on 4-15-1819 in Washington County, Indiana and Elizabeth Patrick Wilson in Vigo County, Indiana during 1829. With Elizabeth, he reportedly had a daughter named Naomi who married Silas Comer. Joshua and Martha reportedly had 12 children but efforts to find them all have led to blank walls to date. According to the biography of his son, Joshua, the family moved to Indiana in 1821.

Surname: Recorded as 'Poor' in LDS Film #1235294.

ID: I595

Name: Samuel POORE

Sex: M

Birth: 28 APR 1706 in MA

Death: 21 SEP 1748 in Rowley, Essex, MA

Event: Sponsors Housewright

Note:

Samuel, born in Rowley, April 28, 1706; according to a record in one branch of the family, and probably it is correct, but I do not discover his birth on the records of Newbury or Rowley, where his father resided. By trade he was a housewright, and he owned land given him by his father, and bought according to deeds handed down by his descendants, but not recorded; of Eliphalet Payson, four acres in 1735; of John Plumer, six acres in 1736; and of David Pearson, nine acres in 1737; all we find of this transaction recorded is a sale of half a piece of salt marsh to his cousin Jeremiah Poore in 1741.

Probably he was a quiet sort of man for we do not discover that he held many public trusts; the only ones on record are two executive town offices, viz., those of Constable in 1739-40, and Hog Reeve in 1731; the latter according to custom, from time immemorial conferred upon newly married men; but, if he had lived beyond middle age, perhaps he would have been called to fill important places.

He perhaps died of a fever or some other acute disease as he made his will September 14, 1748, and died the 21st of the same month -- only one week after. In his will he mentions all his children, excepting one that died young; his wife, and his father-in-law John Searl, whom he appointed executor.

In the inventory of his estate, we learn that he had in his homestead about sixty acres, two and one-half of fresh meadow near, and six acres of salt marsh in Newbury, half of which real estate he gave to each of his sons Joseph and Eliphalet, and he owned a pew in the upper meeting house in Rowley.

He married November 10, 1730, Elizabeth, the daughter of John Searl, who was born January 20, 1712, and after he deceased, she married George Little, and went to New Boston to reside, and died May 28, 1799.

328. James CROW, born 11 Nov 1713 in St. George's Parish, Hartford County, Maryland; died 16 Jul 1792 in Chatham County, North Carolina. He was the son of 656. John Crow and 657. Mary Unick. He married 329. Hannah SIMPSON 06 Nov 1738 in St. George's Parish, Hartford County, Maryland.

329. Hannah SIMPSON, born 16 Nov 1722 in t. George's Parish, Hartford County, Maryland; died 01 Mar 1741/42 in St. George's Parish, Hartford County, Maryland. She was the daughter of 658. William Simpson and 659. Elizabeth Preble.

Notes for James CROW:

Note:

DNA research currently suggest that James Crow was not related to the off-spring of John Crow and his reported 3rd wife Judith McGee and was not related to the John Crow who was married to Elizabeth Clark. I have removed these relationships from within my files pending further evidence or proof of kinship.

As to the father of James Crow, there is considerable debate. However, it is fair to state that it appears most likely that James was a son of John and only some form of proof needs be attained. Some evidence does exist in that nearly all of John Crow's younger children appear in the Carolina's with James and his off-spring. Some sources say that James and family were in Baltimore County and others claim it was Hartford County. Evidence points toward Hartford.

James was married twice while he was in Hartford County but he was in the Granville area of North Carolina as early as 1753. The Will of James Crow was witnessed on the 16th, day of July, 1792. Names sons John, James, Stephen, Reubin, Isaac, Abel, William Crow; daughters Hannah Brown, Abba Riller Pilkington, grandson Levy Crow, and granddaughter Anna Crow. He appointed two sons John and Stephen Crow sole executor of his will. No mention of a son Joshua. It is believed that Joshua preceded his father in death. Will on file in Chatham County, NC. James Crow must have died sometime prior to 7-16-1792, which is the date his will was probated. He does not appear on the census of 1792 (tax records). He and his family were members of the Baptist Church. See "A Genealogical Study of The William Marion Crow Family" by Reginald Crow, 1963. James does appear on the 1790 Tax records in the Hillsboro District along with John, William, Stephen, and Isaac. Examination of DAR 555815 and of the will of James Crow seems to prove that the men with James were indeed, his son's.

The history of the Crow's in America is an interesting one. In 1666, John and Ann Crowe were transported into Dorchester County, Maryland (transported meaning they would have been indentured and required to repay the cost of their passage). In 1671, one Gournay Crow immigrated (paid his own passage) and settled on the Blackwater River in Dorchester County on an estate he called "Crowe's Nest" or, as it was sometimes called, "Crowe's Lodge". In 1673, a Francis Crow was transported into Dorchester and in 1675, a Ralph Crow arrived. The relationships between these various Crow's is not known but that they were somehow related to Gournay, seems evident. Gournay added to his estate on at least three occasions: (1) Grant #557 - "Addition to Crowe's Lodge, to Gournay Crowe for 44 acres and surveyed on 4-12-1682." (2) Grant # 635 - "East Bilbeny/Billeny to Gournay Crowe for 56 acres, surveyed 9-10-1683." (3) In 1687, a patent was issued to Gournay Crowe in Dorchester County for 116 acres, called The Addition". The name Gournay has not, to date, appear to have been carried down through the family lines and therefore leaves some mystery regarding the man and why his name did not survive. There has nothing been found to suggest that John Crow was of the Dorchester Crow family.

More About James CROW and Hannah SIMPSON:

Marriage: 06 Nov 1738, St. George's Parish, Hartford County, Maryland

Children of James CROW and Hannah SIMPSON are:

- 164 i. Reuben Crow, born 1752 in Orange, North Carolina, USA; died 1824 in Clark, Illinois, USA; married Abigail Lee 04 Aug 1781 in Cane Creek, Chatham, North Carolina, USA.
- ii. John CROW, born 01 Jan 1739/40 in St. George's Parish, Hartford County, Maryland; died 1830 in South Carolina; married Ruth HOLLAND; born 1744 in Maryland; died Bef. 1773.

Notes for John CROW:

Note:

Some of the data received on John seems suspect. Problems arise when realizing his age and the age of his wife at the time children are being born. For example when the younger child Dinah was born, John was 69 and his wife was 57. There is also a problem of having two sons named William. Such as this is not unheard of, but infrequent unless of course, the first child died young. The first child named William was born Abt 1776 in South Carolina and the second was born Abt 1801, in Pickins, South Carolina. It is known that an apparently unrelated group of Crow's were in the Pickins area, and attaching the children born there to this John may be eventually proven incorrect. Future studies may dispel some of the confusion. Info on John is found in a book printed by Howard Crosby Smiley and DAR records of Amanda Kirby Street, daughter of Elizabeth Crow and Jason Kirby. Several researchers believe this John (born 2-23-1734/5) is the brother of James (shown here as his father) and each man to be the sons of John. Other researchers place him as a son of James (1713). It is also known that there were two John Crow's, of about the same age, in the area at this time; one was the son of James, and the other was his brother.

Another situation arises with the possibility that John had children by his first wife, Ruth Holland (Randolph and Samuel) One source says these were children with Elizabeth, but their births occur before John married Elizabeth. Considering that John and Ruth were married for upwards of ten years it is very possible that they had children.

A John Crow was in Chatham County, North Carolina as evidenced by a payment voucher written by John Ramsey on April 10, 1781. This payment voucher (# 24) authorized payment to John Crow for 12 1/2 bushels of corn to be used by the Militia or Continental Troops of North Carolina and payment was to be made in Spanish Milled Dollars (North Carolina Colonial Records, p1299, 733, 734 and Rev. Army Accounts, Vol XI, p 31, folio 2). This record also shows that he was one of 22 men to be exempted from paying taxes in Orange County. This petition was made in 1764 and he was married to Ruth Holland at the time.

This same record shows a John Crow appearing with Mansfield Crow (another brother of James) as two of the 108 men who petitioned the Governor to reduce certain filing fees in Orange County. Mansfield's presence in the area strongly suggest a relationship of Mansfield to James Crow, the father of John and possibly a brother, which would suggest both men were sons of John Crow and not William.

John appears on the census records for Chatham County, North Carolina with four sons under age 10 and four sons age 10 through 15. Residing near him was the son Abel.
